Steve Molnar of Johnstown, running for Allegheny-Nike, won his second Nittany Valley Track Club marathon championship yesterday by covering the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 29 minutes, and 40 seconds.

Molnar, who won in 1974 in 2:38:15, was off the course record of 2:27:47 set by Dave Felice of the Nittany Valley TC in 1977.

One hundred and fifteen runners started the 11th annual marathon, which begins at the HRB-Singer west of State College and continued along Gatesburg Road, and 87 finished in sub-freezing, windy weather.

Barbara Filutze of the Erie Running Club won the women's overall and sub-masters (30-39) title in 3:01:06, an age-group record by more than 10 minutes.

The only other record broken went to Herman Aiwood of the Sub-Zero TC of Pittsburgh, who lowered the men's sub-masters standard with a 2:37:51 clocking. The old mark was 2:39:18 set last year by Norman Patenaude of Sudbury, Ontario.

Raymond Roth of the Greater Rochester (N.Y.) TC won his third straight men's seniors (50-59) title with a 3:06:53 effort.

Mary Deutsch of the NVTC won the women's veterans (40-49) division in 4:25:37.

Also running over four hours (4:04:52) was Sy Mah, the 61-year-old director of the Cardiovascular Health Maintenance Program at the University of Toledo in Ohio. Mah was also running his 38th marathon, this year and the 272nd of his life.

He drove 12 hours through a snowstorm from Toledo last night, got out of his car, ran 26 miles, and piled back in his car and started back to Toledo.

Nick Kello (32:37) and Sue Crowe (39:36) were the men's and women's winners in the NVTC's 10-kilometer road race.
